Dear FDA

Docket No. 98N-1038

I am writing to voice my concern on pending food labeling policies. Consumers should have the right know if their food is irradiated. The label should be clear and prominently printed on the package in unambiguous terms. Terms such as "Cold Pasteurized" should not be acceptable. The same should apply to genetically engineered food. All genetically engineered foods should be prominently labeled as such.

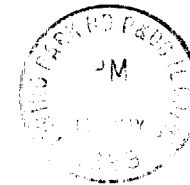

Thank You. I will be following this issue closely and informing all that I can about how important it is that they know the true nature of their food.
